ABOUT ME:

I began cycling in 2006, at the age of 13 when I started Track Racing. This is where my Bunch Peleton riding skills were honed. I surprisingly won my first race, 1500m scratch, when I rode away at the start and stayed away. This became my racing style which sponsors delighted in as it gave them great exposure in both televised and smaller races where brand exposure was a priority.

I was introduced by my father to the 'versorger' of the Belgian National Team, Rik Keyearts, a man with many talents on the professional scene for 15 years at the time. He invited me to a training ride and I was then invited to race in Belgium for 2 months in that year. I visited the Cycling School of Ronse, Belgium, for 3 months in 2007 and then returned home to Cape Town in July to complete my exams.

I wanted to race in Europe so it was not viable to be schooled in Cape Town. So, I moved to Belgium to continue my schooling from September of that year. I was based with a strict family in Belgium who, taught me about life in Belgium and wholesome values. It was the right decision in my quest as I was educated and prepared for a life of professional cycling.

In between, I came to race in South Africa as an U16, where I received 3rd Place at the SA Road Championships and 1st place at the U16 National Stage Tour. The following year I finished 2nd in the U16 Belgium Cup, alongside many of the Belgian future stars. From there on, I focused on Pro cycling as an U23 racer and mountain climber.

I have ridden for a number of teams who catered for U23 cyclists including Bonitas and Dimension Data. I have represented South Africa at Juniors, in all the Youth Olympics, World Championships and Nation Cups around Europe, Switzerland and Spain as well as an U23 rider at Richmond (USA) World Championships, Tour of Flanders, Cote de Picardie, Giro di Toscana Nation Cups.

I am a WINNER by nature, focusing only on the top step of the podium. My life is 100% professional and all distractions to the contrary are expelled from my life.
